Preface

The 1984 edition of the Index to Federal Programs and Services includes information on 131 federal departments, agencies, and Crown corporations. Some organizations, such as the Privy Council Office, are not included here since their activities affect the general public only through other departments. Some other organizations that are included do not necessarily provide a direct service to the public, but are involved in activities that impinge on the public in some way.

Part I contains descriptions of programs and services provided by the federal government. Part II consists of addresses and phone numbers (where available) of federal regional, district, and branch offices serving the public throughout Canada.

The section on page 5 provides a detailed explanation on how to use the Index.

This year, for the first time, the Index was brought to final production stage in-house, on word-processing equipment. The Centre's publication and technical staff used the Canadian government generic codes to generate typesetting. The hard work and dedication of Gordon Johnston, Clearinghouse staff, and proofreader Pat Hood helped to ensure the timely publication of this year's edition of the book.

The Index could not have been produced without the co-operation and unflagging assistance of the department, agency, and corporation co-ordinators, who provided the original material and who worked so diligently to ensure accuracy of content and to meet difficult deadlines. We would like to express our appreciation and thanks for their support.

Final update was 15 November 1983.

How to use the Index

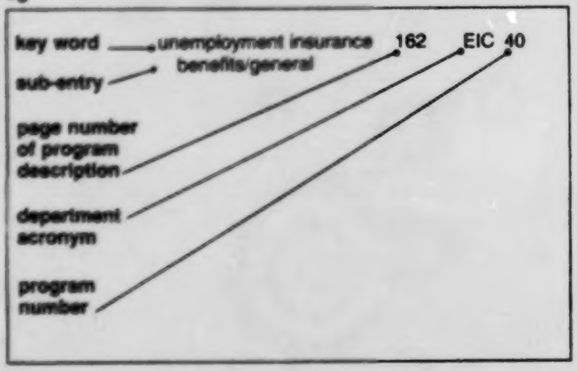
The Index is a compendium of information on various federal services, including program descriptions, telephone services, and government office listings. Each section is complete in itself, but is also linked to the information in other parts of the book.

In Part I, descriptions of programs and services provided by 131 federal departments, agencies, Crown corporations, and Canada's judiciary are grouped by organization. Each section begins with the head office address, a general inquiry number, a list of cities where the regional offices of that organization are found, the title of the minister or agent through whom that organization reports to Parliament, and a brief summary of the organization's responsibilities.

The individual program descriptions include an inquiry number (where applicable), a cross reference to the regional and district offices in Part II and, if there is toll-free service for the program, a cross reference to the toll-free telephone service section, page 8.

A subject index provides a direct route to a specific program description by topic, eliminating the need to know which program is administered by which department. The key word gives the page number of the program description, the department acronym, and the program number.

eg



Telephone referral services throughout Canada are listed by province on page 7.

A toll-free telephone service section (page 8) lists all toll-free services available throughout the country for specific programs, such as CHIP, or more general information on departments, such as Consumer and Corporate Affairs consumer product information.

Part II of the Index to Federal Programs and Services 1984 contains a listing of all federal government offices in Canada to which the public has direct access. The list is broken down into the 12 provincial and territorial sections of the country, arranged alphabetically from Alberta to Yukon Territory. The office addresses are listed alphabetically by department within each town, also arranged alphabetically. The addresses include, wherever possible, the department's name, branch, or division name, street address, postal address, postal code, and telephone number. If there is no office in your town, consult the toll-free telephone or telephone referral service listings.

The city index is on page 285. This is an alphabetical listing by organization and branch, of the cities and towns where there are federal offices. For example, to find the nearest Transport Canada Coast Guard office, check the list under that department's name and branch for the town nearest you. Then turn to the town in the relevant provincial section for the full address.

Following the guidelines laid down by the Canadian Permanent Committee on Geographical Names, the alphabetical arrangement of town and city names is letter by letter: for example, Biggar comes before Big River; Lac-Mégantic before La Malbaie. Towns beginning with Saint, St, Sainte, Ste are all interfiled alphabetically by letter, with the contractions being treated as if they were spelled out; for example, St Andrews precedes Saint John and St Stephen; Sainte-Thérèse precedes Saint-Eustache.

Part II of the Index also includes a list, by province and town, of the authorized bookstore agents of government of Canada publications see page 541.

The following is an example from Part I showing how it relates to the other sections of the book and how it can lead to further information.

Court Martial Appeal Court of Canada (CMAC)

Supreme Court of Canada Building
Kent and Wellington Streets
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0H9

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-8012.

The Court Martial Appeal Court of Canada is a superior court of record constituted by Parliament under section 101 of the Constitution Act, 1867, for the better administration of the laws of Canada. Its members are judges of the various superior courts of criminal jurisdiction throughout Canada, as defined by the Criminal Code and the Federal Court Act. Each judge is separately appointed to the Court by order in council and holds a patent issued under the Great Seal of Canada.

CMAC 1
The jurisdiction of the Court Martial Appeal Court is defined by Part IX of the National Defence Act. The Court exercises the same jurisdiction in appeals from convictions by courts martial as do provincial and territorial courts of appeal from criminal convictions, except that authority to deal with an appeal in respect of severity of sentence is reserved to the Minister of National Defence. There is no right to appeal an acquittal by a court martial. An appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada is allowed, by leave of that court, or where there has been a dissenting judgement, on any question of law. The Court's Rules of Practice and Procedure, while conforming as closely as possible to those of the provincial and territorial courts of appeal in criminal appeals, are of necessity different in a number of important particulars. Under the Rules, the President may authorize appointment of counsel for an appellant at public expense. Any member in good standing of a law society in Canada is entitled to appear before the Court, as are Officers of the Judge Advocate General's Branch of the Department of National Defence.

The Court sits as a panel of three judges and may sit outside as well as within Canada, in any place with suitable court facilities, and as near as possible to locations convenient to appellants and their counsel.

The officers, clerks, and employees of the Federal Court of Canada also perform the duties of their respective offices for the Court Martial Appeal Court of Canada.

Federal Court of Canada (FCTC)

Principal Office
Supreme Court of Canada Building
Kent and Wellington Streets
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0H9

Local Offices: Whitehorse, Yellowknife, Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Regina, Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montréal, Québec, Fredericton, Saint John, Halifax, Charlottetown, St John's.

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-8012.

The Federal Court of Canada, as constituted by the Federal Court Act, is a court of law, equity, and admiralty, and a superior court of record having civil and criminal jurisdiction. It consists of the Federal Court of Appeal, with the Chief Justice and nine judges, and the Federal Court—Trial Division, with the Associate Chief Justice and 11 judges. The Federal Court of Canada may sit anywhere in the country at times arranged as nearly as possible to suit the convenience of the litigants. It does not hold trials or hearings on a circuit basis. In Ottawa, sittings of the Federal Court are held in the Supreme Court of Canada Building. The judges' offices are in the same building.

FCTC 1

The Federal Court of Appeal has jurisdiction to hear appeals from the Trial Division; to review decisions of federal boards; to determine questions of law, jurisdiction, or practice and procedure referred by federal boards, commissions, and tribunals; and to hear appeals under various federal acts other than the Income Tax Act, the Estate Tax Act, and the Canadian Citizenship Act. Appeals from decisions of the Court may be taken to the Supreme Court of Canada, once leave is granted by the Federal Court of Appeal or the Supreme Court.

FCTC 2

The Federal Court—Trial Division has jurisdiction in cases in which relief is claimed against the Crown, and in cases in which relief is claimed by the Crown or the Attorney General of Canada. The Trial Division also has jurisdiction to hear proceedings for prohibition, mandamus, certiorari, injunction, or declaratory relief against federal boards, commissions, and other tribunals; for interprovincial and federal-provincial disputes; industrial property proceedings; admiralty proceedings; income tax and estate tax appeals; citizenship appeals; and claims for relief, if there is no other Canadian court that has such jurisdiction.

FCTC 3

Registry: the Federal Court of Canada has one Registry for the entire country, which is responsible for the administration of legal proceedings within the Court. It is composed of the principal office in Ottawa and 16 local offices. Four of these are staffed by employees of the Federal Court of Canada. The remaining 12 are administered by provincial and territorial court employees. In Ottawa the Registry is located in the Federal Court Annex Building.

Supreme Court of Canada (SUPC)

Supreme Court of Canada Building
Wellington Street
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0J1

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4330.

SUPC 1
The Supreme Court of Canada is the highest court of the land. It is a general court of appeal for both criminal and civil cases. Its jurisdiction embraces the civil law of Québec as well as the common law of the other nine common-law provinces. The Court reviews cases from the 10 provincial Courts of Appeal and from the Appeal Division of the Federal Court of Canada. In most cases it will hear appeals only if permission to appeal is given first. The Court can also hear cases referred by the Governor in Council on constitutional questions. The Supreme Court sits only in Ottawa and holds three sessions during the year. Its hearings are open to the public.

Tax Court of Canada (TCC)

381 Kent Street
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0M1

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9045.

TCC 1
The Tax Court of Canada has jurisdiction to hear and determine appeals to the Court on matters arising under the Income Tax Act, the Canada Pension Plan, the Petroleum and Gas Revenue Tax Act, and Part IV of the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971. Hearings are held in major centres throughout the country, and all parties to an appeal may appear in person or may be represented by counsel or an agent. The decisions of the Tax Court of Canada, except those relating to unemployment insurance appeals, may be appealed to the Federal Court of Canada.

The CBC is a publicly owned corporation established by an act of the Canadian Parliament to provide the national broadcasting service in Canada.

The CBC reports to Parliament through the Minister of Communications.

CBC 1
National broadcasting service: the CBC operates several national services which maintain high levels of Canadian content—a French television network, an English television network, English and French AM radio and FM stereo networks. The percentage of the Canadian public able to receive CBC broadcasts, in their respective languages as of 1 April 1983 is as follows for each service: English television, 99.0; French television 98.9; English AM radio, 99.1; French AM radio, 99.0; English FM stereo, 73.2; French FM stereo, 67.4. Many of the programs on both the English and French television networks are available with closed captions for the hearing impaired.

CBC 2
The Parliamentary Television Network makes the proceedings of the House of Commons available to Canadians via cable.

CBC 3
Radio Canada International, a multilingual international broadcasting service, broadcasts in 11 languages around the world. In addition to its shortwave broadcasts, RCI makes available recorded programs free of charge to broadcasters throughout the world. Canadian Armed Forces radio and television stations in Germany relay certain CBC domestic newscasts in French and English, and RCI supplies them with taped programs from the CBC's French and English networks.

CBC 4
The Northern Radio Service provides locally produced programs in English and native languages, as well as national network programs, to Yukon and the Northwest Territories.

CBC 5
Northern Service Television, with the establishment in 1978 of a small production centre in Yellowknife, has the capacity for some northern production and program procurement. It supplements network programs with programs from other regions of Canada and northern-related programs purchased outside the Corporation, some of which have Inuktitut dubbed in.

CBC 6
The Northern Québec Service provides most of CBC's French and English radio and television programming, as well as some programming in Inuktitut, Cree, and other native languages, to residents of Quebec's North.

CBC 7
Transmission methods: these include leased channels on the Canadian space satellite Anik, plus more than 85 000 kilometres of microwave and landline connections.

CBC 8
Vidéotheque: a first in Canada, this easily accessible CBC viewing facility in a central location in Ottawa offers hundreds of CBC television programs on videotape in all broadcasting categories, from both English and French networks. Viewing of programs at the Vidéotheque is by invitation or prior arrangement.

CBC 9
Service for the hearing impaired: this service will provide the hearing impaired with information about the CBC and its television programming by means of a Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TDD). A hearing-impaired person who has a TDD in his or her home will be able to call the CBC Head Office Information Centre (Ottawa) collect, at (613) 733-8868 and receive the same kind of telephone service, in English or in French, that is provided to all other callers.

Information: Montréal (514) 283-6363; regional offices see Part II under Toronto or Vancouver.

The Corporation is charged with fostering the development and growth of the private sector of the Canadian film industry. It is also responsible for administering the Canadian Broadcast Program Development Fund, and for promoting, through that fund, the development of a strong private-sector TV industry and a solid core of attractive Canadian television programming in the areas of drama, variety, and children's programming. The CFDC carries out these mandates by providing financial assistance to private-sector film and television producers and distributors, and by promoting the Canadian film and television industry at major festivals and markets in Canada and abroad.
Minister responsible:
Minister of Communications

Film development and production (CFDC 1-5)

CFDC 1
Film production/financial assistance: development and interim loans are available to producers to help them develop projects or start filming while finalizing permanent financing. These loans are repayable with interest and fees. In specific cases, equity investments are made in films.

CFDC 2
Film production/project selection: the Corporation participates in films that have significant Canadian, creative, artistic, and technical content. It determines which films it will assist, following careful assessment of each project by its consultants and script readers. Scripts or outlines may be submitted to any of the three CFDC offices.

CFDC 3
Co-productions: Canada has entered into co-production treaties with the United Kingdom, France, Italy, West Germany and Israel. Through its Montréal office, the Corporation receives and evaluates all applications for the certification of a film as an official co-production. It makes a recommendation to the Minister of Communications for either the approval or rejection of each application.

CFDC 4
Film distribution assistance: short-term loans are available to Canadian distributors to help them launch Canadian features in Canada. The program covers theatrical and television releases. Promotional materials must be created and produced by Canadian companies. Decisions are based on detailed proposals submitted to CFDC officers.

CFDC 5
Film promotion: the CFDC promotes the film and television industry and provides information at important events such as the American Film Market in Los Angeles, the Cannes Film Festival, and the Montréal, Toronto, and Banff Film Festivals.

Broadcast program production (CFDC 6-7)

CFDC 6
Broadcast program production/financial assistance: guaranteed loans and loan guarantees are available to producers to help them produce fully developed projects for television. Guaranteed loans are subject to interest and administration fees; loan guarantees are also subject to administration fees. The CFDC is also able to make equity investments in television productions.

CFDC 7
Broadcast program production/project selection: the Corporation participates in high-quality Canadian productions in the categories of drama, variety, and children's programming, where a Canadian over-the-air broadcaster has guaranteed to broadcast the program. Canadian over-the-air broadcasters are understood to be, for the purposes of the Canadian Broadcast Program Development Fund, the CBC/Radio Canada, and all private Canadian over-the-air stations or networks. Public educational stations or networks do not qualify as broadcast guarantors under the fund.

Film certification (CFDC 8)

CFDC 8
Film and video certification: the Minister of Communications has sole responsibility for certifying that a film or video production is Canadian and that it meets the criteria set out in the Income Tax Regulations. All questions regarding certification should be addressed to: The Canadian Film and Video Certification Office, Arts and Culture Branch, Department of Communications, 365 Laurier Avenue West, Room 1615A, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0C8. Centre for Service to the Public (CSP)

Head Office
Journal Tower South, 20th Floor
365 Laurier Avenue West
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0S5

Canada Service Bureaux: Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, Moncton, Halifax, St John's

Canada Public Help Centre: Winnipeg

Telephone Referral Services: in all 10 provinces and Yukon Territory

Information: Ottawa-Hull (613) 593-6342; Canada Service Bureaux, Canada Public Help Centre, or telephone referral services see CSP 4 below.

The Centre for Service to the Public makes it easier for Canadians to gain access to federal programs and services, and helps departments improve the quality of their service to the public.
Minister responsible
Minister of Supply and Services

CSP 1

Qualiserv: the Centre helps departments improve the quality of service they provide to the public through a process that involves employees at all levels. Qualiserv staff help departments identify and correct specific service problems in their organization in such areas as telephone-answering skills, physical layout for service transactions, accessibility for the disabled, and so on. Their aim is to foster management philosophies and attitudes that centre on the public, so that quality of service becomes a continuing concern for everyone in the organization.

CSP 2

Telidon Exploitation Program: the Centre has been assigned the responsibility of working with departments to use Telidon as an effective, low-cost means of providing information to business, institutions, and the public. The program will help to broaden application of this Canadian technology and will assist in the marketing of Telidon on an international scale. The program includes a public information bank, called Cantel, which provides federal government information to a variety of government and private-industry Telidon terminals across Canada.

CSP 3

Publications: the Centre is responsible for the annual issue of the Index to Federal Programs and Services, a reference source containing descriptions of the programs and services of federal departments, agencies, and Crown corporations. The Index also lists the addresses and phone numbers of local, district, and regional federal government offices. The public can find the Index in libraries and post offices, and on Telidon as part of Cantel.

The Centre was asked in 1983 by the Parliamentary Special Committee on the Disabled and the Handicapped to prepare a directory of information sources for the handicapped. The first volume, which will include federal information sources, will be published in 1984.

CSP 4

Regional Resource Centres: a network of offices across the country helps the public find answers to questions concerning the federal government through toll-free, province-wide, telephone referral service. In some cases, the telephone service operates in conjunction with the province to direct people to the appropriate office, no matter what level of government is involved. Each Centre provides a walk-in referral service (called Canada Service Bureau), where the public's inquiries can be answered in person. The Regional Resource Centres also help other government departments find information, and on a project basis, the Centres undertake specific activities on their behalf.

In Winnipeg, the Centre for Service to the Public works with Employment and Immigration Canada to run the Canada Public Help Centre. In addition to offering a full walk-in and telephone referral service, the Centre helps people resolve problems relating to employment, unemployment, and immigration that they are unable to solve by going through the regular channels.

Employment/disadvantaged individuals (EIC 23-25)

EIC 23

Job Corps: EIC provides individuals who are at a severe employment disadvantage with the necessary preparation and employment-related skills to help them find jobs. Existing community resources, local businesses, and government services can support the integration of severely disadvantaged persons into the labour force. This program consolidates the former Local Employment Assistance Program (LEAP), Preparation component; Canada Community Development Projects (CCDP); and Youth Jobs Corps. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre or Employment Development Branch Office see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 24

ACCESS employment disadvantaged: the Access Program stimulates the provision of employment opportunities for persons who need help in finding jobs. Employers are provided with a wage subsidy to hire individuals facing severe employment barriers or lacking work experience. This program consolidates the former Program for Employment Disadvantaged (PED), Portable Wage Subsidy (PWS) Program, New Technology Employment Program (NTEP), Canada Community Services Projects (CCSP), and Summer Canada Internships 1984. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre or Employment Development Branch Office see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 25

Affirmative Action Program: this program is designed to remove discriminatory practices in employment and to achieve and maintain appropriate representation of minorities and women at all levels of the workplace. This program provides consultative services to industry and unions on the development of affirmative action plans that would include goals and special measures for increasing, where necessary, the representation of women, native people, and disabled persons in the workplace. Inquiries: any regional office see Part II under cities listed above.

Employment/foreign workers (EIC 26-28)

EIC 26

Foreign worker recruitment: permission is given employers to recruit foreign workers if their admission will not adversely affect employment and career opportunities for Canadians. In deciding on these requests, EIC will consider such factors as the availability of qualified Canadians, wages and working conditions, and additional employment or training opportunities that are expected to be created for Canadians as a result of the recruitment of foreign workers. Labour Market Planning and Adjustment Branch. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 27

Agricultural workers from Mexico and the Caribbean: foreign seasonal agricultural workers, commonly referred to as offshore workers, may enter Canada on a temporary basis from Mexico and the Caribbean to meet human resource needs that cannot be met from within the Canadian labour market. Wage guarantees, housing standards, transportation costs, medical arrangements, and working conditions are included in the agreement between the workers, the employer, and the foreign government. Commonwealth Caribbean and Mexican Seasonal Agricultural Workers Programs. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 28

Canada–Mexico Exchange Program: this program provides practical career training to young specialists and technicians. Canada-Mexico Exchange Program. Inquiries: Youth Employment Directorate, Place du Portage, Phase IV, 5th Floor, Hull, Québec (mail: Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0J9).

Employers/inventory of job seekers: job placement and employment counselling services are offered by Canada Employment Centres across the country to help employers find suitable workers and to help workers find jobs. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 30
Employer incentives/industrial training/training for employees: the federal government reimburses employers for a portion of the training costs incurred for approved employee training projects. National Industrial Training Program. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 31
Employer-employee consultation service: financial incentives are available to encourage consultation between employers and their employees to deal jointly with the human resource side of company planning and to find ways of preventing or overcoming problems connected with technological updating, high employee turnover, plant relocation, declining productivity or other disruptions. Manpower Consultative Service. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 32
Employers' assistance/training for employees in highly skilled blue-collar trades and occupations: the federal government provides financial assistance to firms willing to initiate or expand training in occupations of national importance. Critical Trade Skills Training. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 33
Federal Contracts Program: this program encourages Crown corporations and businesses benefiting from contracts with federal departments to adopt affirmative action initiatives. Federal Contracts Program. Inquiries: any regional office see Part II under cities listed above.

EIC 34
Canadian Government Annuity Program: the purpose of the Canadian Government Annuity Program is to meet its obligations to Canadians who purchased a Canadian government annuity either privately or through their employer's pension plan, by paying out annuities that have come due, and by administering those that have not yet matured. Inquiries: Canadian Government Annuities Office, Box 12000, Bathurst, New Brunswick, E2A 4L8 (506) 548-7972 or see toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

Employment stimulation programs (EIC 35-39)

EIC 35
Local Employment Assistance and Development (LEAD): EIC provides assistance through contributions and grants to increase the number of permanent jobs in localities of chronically high unemployment. Organizations representing community development interests may sponsor LEAD Projects, LEAD Enterprise Projects, or LEAD corporations. This program consolidates the former Local Economic Development Assistance (LEDA) Program and the Local Employment Assistance Program (LEAP), Retention component. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre or Employment Development Branch Office see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 36
New Employment Expansion and Development (NEED) Canada: EIC provides incremental, productive, term employment by funding useful projects in various communities. This program is a consolidation of the previous New Employment Expansion and Development Program; the Job Creation Program, under Section 38 of the Unemployment Insurance Act; the Canada Community Development Projects (Immediate Mode); the Special Response Feature; the Community Employment Program; and Summer Canada Projects 1984. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre or Employment Development Branch Office see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 37
Industry and Labour Adjustment Program (ILAP): this program is a series of special community-based measures designed to respond to unemployment. The program is intended to help designated communities, industries, and workers in those parts of Canada most adversely affected by the decline of permanent jobs in their local labour market. The federal government introduced the three-year, $450 million ILAP initiative in January 1981. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

EIC 38
Skills Growth Fund: this fund was established by the National Training Act to accelerate skill development and to help overcome serious shortages anticipated in occupations of national importance. It also permits people who are disadvantaged in the labour force to take training especially tailored to their needs, as provided by non-profit organizations set up for that purpose. The fund provides capital funding to establish, expand, and modernize training facilities, and is available for all approved projects up to a maximum of $40 000 per training place. Funding is also available, in certain cases, for initial operating and course development costs. Both public training institutions and private, non-profit training organizations are eligible to submit proposals for funding. Inquiries: nearest regional office see Part II under cities listed above.

EIC 39
Canadian Industrial Renewal Program (CIRP): this program is a series of industrial and labour adjustment measures designed to assist the textile, clothing, footwear, and tanning (TCFT) industries and workers, while supporting the federal government's TCFT policies. The federal government introduced the five-year program (1981-82 to 1985-86) on 26 October 1981 with a commitment of $267 million. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 15.

Unemployment insurance (EIC 40-49)

EIC 40
Unemployment insurance general: temporary financial aid is available to qualified unemployed workers who are seeking jobs. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 18.

EIC 41
Unemployment Insurance Work Sharing Program: EIC aims to avoid temporary layoffs by offering alternative income support to eligible claimants who are employed under an approved work-sharing agreement. Workers share the available work to avoid the layoff of fellow employees and are partially compensated for reduced hours by the payment of unemployment insurance work-sharing benefits. Training may also be carried out on work-sharing days. A limited number of pilot projects demonstrating the use of work sharing in cases of permanent decline will be carried out in 1983-84. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 18.

EIC 42
Unemployment insurance/employment training: income support is available for employment and apprenticeship training participants who have been referred by the Department. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 18.

EIC 43
Unemployment insurance/supplemental benefit: employers, either on their own initiative or through the collective bargaining process, may introduce a supplemental unemployment benefit (SUB) plan for their employees. The object of a SUB plan is to supplement the unemployment insurance benefit paid to workers by Employment and Immigration Canada during periods of unemployment due to lack of work, illness, or pregnancy.

SUB plans must be approved by EIC so that SUB payments are not considered as earnings for unemployment insurance purposes and are not deducted from unemployment insurance benefits. Coverage and Premium Policy Division, Employment and Insurance Services. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 994-2742.

EIC 44
Unemployment insurance appeals: claimants and employers have the right to appeal to a federally appointed independent body against decisions by CEIC on claims for unemployment insurance. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 18.

EIC 45
Unemployment insurance benefits at age 65: financial aid to qualified workers is available in the form of lump-sum payments to workers who reach age 65. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 18.

EIC 48
Unemployment insurance benefits/maternity: temporary financial aid is available to qualified workers off work because of pregnancy or adoption. Inquiries: nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 18.

EIC 49
Unemployment insurance/reduction of employer's premium: a reduction of the employer's UI premiums may be obtained through registration of an Employer's Wage Loss Replacement Plan. Employer Registration Division. Inquiries: by phone: Bathurst (506) 548-7906; by mail: Employer Registration Division, PO Box 10000, Bathurst, New Brunswick E2A 4L8, or nearest Canada Employment Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 18.

Immigration (EIC 50-63)

EIC 50
Deportation/immigration: visitors whose presence in Canada may endanger public health or welfare or who otherwise are in violation of the Immigration Act may be required to leave after an immigration inquiry. Immigration and Demographic Policy. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 51
Employment and student authorizations/visitors' visas/applications: applications are available overseas for immigrant and visitor visas, and employment and student authorizations. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 52
Immigrant Settlement and Adaptation Program: in addition to the settlement services offered by the federal and provincial governments, a wide variety of settlement services are purchased by EIC from voluntary organizations across the country to help immigrants successfully adapt to life in Canada. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 53
Immigration examinations/citizens/permanent residents: Canadian citizens and permanent residents who have not lost their permanent status automatically have the right to re-enter and remain in Canada, but like visitors, they must first be interviewed by an immigration officer at the port of entry. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 54
Immigration/family class: anyone who is at least 18 years of age and is a Canadian citizen or a permanent resident may sponsor close relatives to immigrate to Canada under the Family Class Program. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 55
Immigration inquiries: anyone denied permission to come into Canada at a port of entry, or to remain once in Canada, has the right to be heard at an immigration inquiry. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 56
Independent immigrants/immigration to Canada: assisted relatives, retired people, entrepreneurs, the self-employed, and others applying on their own initiative, are eligible to immigrate to Canada as independent immigrants. Except for retired people, all are selected according to criteria in the point system. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 57
Refugees/admission to Canada: people eligible to immigrate to Canada under the refugee classes are those who are unable or unwilling to return to their country of nationality or residence because they fear persecution for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group, or political opinion; and who show evidence that they could successfully settle in Canada with the assistance provided by the government and/or voluntary organizations. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 58
Refugees/immigration: in addition to convention refugees admitted under the refugee class, many displaced and persecuted persons are accepted under special, designated classes, of which three are currently in effect: the self-exiled, Indo-Chinese, and political prisoners and oppressed persons. Other persons are admitted for humanitarian reasons according to special immigration programs approved by the Minister, of which four are currently in effect: those accepting persons from Poland, El Salvador, Iran, and Lebanon. The participation of private organizations in these programs has a bearing on refugee selections. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 59
Returning residents' permits: permanent residents (but not Canadian citizens) who wish to leave Canada for a temporary period may apply for a returning residents' permit to produce on their return as evidence that they did not intend to abandon their Canadian residency. Permanent residents intending to remain outside Canada for more than 183 days in any 12-month period are advised to obtain such a permit. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 60
Sponsoring a refugee or designated class person: private groups of Canadian citizens, or constituent groups of national organizations who have signed sponsoring agreements with the federal government, may apply to sponsor a refugee or designated class person to immigrate to Canada. They must sign a legally binding agreement promising support for a specific period of time. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 61
Sponsoring a relative/immigration: Canadian citizens or permanent residents who offer to sponsor or assist a relative to immigrate to Canada must sign a legally binding agreement promising support for a specific period of time. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 62
Transportation loans: loans are available to refugees and other immigrants for the purpose of paying transportation and related costs to their destination in Canada. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

EIC 63
Visitors to Canada/legal entry: visitors requiring a visa to come to Canada will need to apply and be interviewed by a Canadian immigration officer at an overseas post before arriving in Canada. Tourists, business people, foreign students, temporary workers, and other visitors to Canada are also interviewed by an immigration officer at the port of entry to determine whether they may be legally admitted. Immigration. Inquiries: nearest Canada Immigration Centre see Part II or toll-free numbers listing on page 17.

The Department's objective is to encourage the discovery, development, and intelligent use of the country's mineral and energy resources and to broaden the knowledge of Canada's landmass. The Department formulates national policies based on social and economic analysis and on research and data collection in the earth, mineral, and metal sciences.
Minister responsible:
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources

Energy (EMR 1-32)

EMR 1
Canadianization: a major goal of the federal government energy policy is to increase opportunities for Canadians in the petroleum industry. Specifically, the federal government has set three major goals: at least 50 per cent Canadian ownership of oil and gas production by 1990, Canadian control of a significant number of large oil and gas firms, and rapid growth of the share of the oil and gas sector owned by the government of Canada. Canadianization Division, Corporate Development and Economic Analysis Branch, Energy Policy and Analysis Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9351.

EMR 2
Canadian Ownership and Control Determination Program (COCD): this program is designed to measure the Canadian ownership rate (COR) and determine the control status (CS) of individuals, corporations, partnerships, and trusts that require a COR/CS determination in order to receive incentives under the Petroleum Incentives Program. Petroleum Incentives Administration. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 996-4444.

EMR 3
Coal identification estimates: the Geological Survey is responsible for identifying, evaluating, and estimating the quality, quantity, and distribution of coal. Geological Survey of Canada, Earth Science Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4029.

EMR 4
Coal policy: the development of federal coal policies is the responsibility of the Coal and Alternate Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector, which also provides information and conducts technical studies on coal and related matters. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-1118.

EMR 5
Coal resources and reserve appraisal research and development: CANMET investigates the quality and recoverability of coal. It is responsible for the research and development of technologies pertaining to coal mining and beneficiation, coal carbonization, gasification and liquefaction. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4029 or 995-4039.

EMR 6
Coal Utilization Program: this program is designed to increase the contribution of coal to the energy supply of Atlantic Canada by supporting the development of new coal-utilization technologies, up to the commercial application stage, that will permit coal to be consumed in more efficient and environmentally benign ways. The federal government will provide $50 million over the period 1980-83, with provision for a further $100 million in 1984-85, to support the development and commercialization of new coal utilization technologies. These funds are being used to demonstrate and commercialize a number of promising technologies, including fluidized-bed combustion and dense coal-liquid mixtures. Coal and Alternate Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-1118.

Energy, Mines and Resources Canada (continued)

EMR 7
Electrical policy and power: the Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector maintains electrical statistics, including information on electrical policy, pricing, utilities, tidal power, and generating stations. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-1118.

EMR 8
Energy and mineral resources identification and estimates: the Geological Survey is responsible for the identification and evaluation of non-renewable energy sources (oil, gas, coal, and uranium) and mineral resources, and for the provision of estimates of their quality, quantity, and distribution. Geological Survey of Canada, Earth Sciences Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4089.

EMR 9
Energy commodity value: comparative data are available on the commodity value of natural gas and its competitive position in relation to other fuels. Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 10
Energy/public affairs information: general inquiries on the government of Canada's energy policies and programs may be directed to the Communications Branch. Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-3065.

EMR 11
Energy statistics: energy statistics are maintained on the supply, demand, and prices for all energy commodities. Market Analysis and Statistics Division, Energy Policy Analysis Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 996-9533.

EMR 12
Energy Supplies Allocation Board: established by the Energy Supplies Emergency Act, 1979, the Board is responsible, in a national emergency, for the allocation of crude oil to refiners, for the allocation of refined products to wholesale petroleum customers, and for the administration of a rationing program to reinforce the allocation programs as required. When there is no emergency, the Board monitors trends in petroleum supply and demand in order to evaluate the need for recommending the introduction of a mandatory allocation program as provided by the Act. Energy Supplies Allocation Board. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 996-3559.

EMR 13
Nuclear energy technology/research and development: research is conducted on radioactive ores to develop uranium extraction and chemical analysis techniques. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4064.

EMR 14
Nuclear policy: information pertaining to Canadian uranium, thorium, and nuclear potential, as well as advice and guidance on uranium, nuclear policy, and related matters, is available from the Uranium and Nuclear Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-1118.

EMR 15
Oil and gas taxation/Natural Gas and Gas Liquids Tax: under the National Energy Program, the Natural Gas and Gas Liquids Tax, one of several tax measures the federal government has implemented to redress the revenue imbalance between the producing provinces and the industry, is used as a means of maintaining wholesale natural gas prices at 65 per cent of crude oil prices. Financial and Fiscal Analysis Branch, Energy Policy and Analysis Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9351.

EMR 16
Oil and gas taxation/Petroleum and Gas Revenue Tax: the Petroleum and Gas Revenue Tax Program establishes a tax on net operating revenue, minus a 25 per cent resource allowance, for revenue derived from the production of oil and gas. Financial and Fiscal Analysis Branch, Energy Policy and Analysis Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9351.

EMR 17
Oil and gas taxation/Petroleum Compensation Charge: the Petroleum Compensation Charge is a tax on all petroleum consumed in Canada. The revenue generated compensates importers of foreign crude oil for the difference in the price of domestic and imported oil, and creates world-level prices for certain classes of Canadian oil. Oil Pricing and Petroleum Compensation Programs Branch, Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 18
Oil and gas technology/research and development: research is conducted in oil sands mining and processing methods, and in refining processes for bitumen and heavy oils. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4059.

EMR 19
Oil and gas transportation: the Petroleum Sector monitors and assesses oil and natural gas transportation, oil and natural gas pipeline proposals, and liquefied natural gas (LNG) and oil tanker proposals. Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 20
Oil Import Compensation Program: this program was established in 1974 to compensate importers of foreign crude oil for the difference between the world oil price they pay and the domestic price paid by other Canadian refiners with access to domestic crude oil. Oil Pricing and Petroleum Compensation Programs Branch, Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 21
Oil pricing: information regarding the pricing system for petroleum is available from the Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 22
Natural gas pricing: the wholesale price of natural gas in Eastern Canadian markets is kept at 65 per cent of crude oil. This gas oil relationship is maintained to encourage consumers to convert from oil to natural gas—a more plentiful, Canadian-produced fuel. Information regarding the pricing system for natural gas is available from the Natural Gas Branch, Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 23
Oil resources research and development: CANMET investigates oil resources through characterization of the chemical and physical properties of unprocessed bitumens and heavy oils, and of the conversion products from bitumens, heavy oils, and coal. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-4075.

EMR 24
Oil products markets prices: information is provided regarding markets and prices for Canadian petroleum products (gasoline, diesel fuel, furnace oil, and stove oil). Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 25
Oil supply planning: the Petroleum Sector is responsible for the medium- and long-term assessment of domestic crude production, availability of offshore oil, and security of oil supplies. Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 26
Heavy oil development/fossil fuel research, development, and demonstration: the government of Canada and the government of Saskatchewan have established this program to encourage the research, development, and demonstration of new technologies that facilitate expanded production and use of Saskatchewan's fossil fuel resources, with particular emphasis on heavy oil and lignite coal. Canada and Saskatchewan have agreed to share equally the costs of the program, which will be administered by Saskatchewan under the general direction of a federal-provincial management committee. Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 27
Emergency oil stocks inventory: the Petroleum Sector studies the adequacy of industry reserves to meet supply shortfalls and to meet the need for additional oil stocks. Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 28
Petroleum Incentives Administration (PIA): the Administration was set up in June 1982 to operate the Canadian Ownership and Control Determination Program and the Petroleum Incentives Program. Petroleum Incentives Administration. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 996-2611.

EMR 29
Petroleum Incentives Program (PIP): this program is designed to encourage Canadians to participate in petroleum and gas exploration and development. Benefits depend on the Canadian ownership rate and the control status of applicants, as well as on the type of undertaking and where it took place. Applications for incentives are accepted from corporations, partnerships, trusts, or individuals. Petroleum Incentives Administration. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 996-2611.

EMR 30
Petroleum Monitoring Agency (PMA): this agency of EMR reports semi-annually on the state of the oil and gas industry, in particular on sources of funds, uses of funds, cash flow, financing of investments, and gross production of crude oil, natural gas, and natural gas liquids. Petroleum Monitoring Agency. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 996-4444.

EMR 31
Petroleum refinery technology: information is provided on the Canadian refining system, refining technology, and the abilities of Canadian refiners to meet present and projected demands for petroleum products. Petroleum Utilization Branch, Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-2500.

EMR 32
Uranium mining and processing: CANMET monitors the development of Canada's uranium resources and provides biennial assessments of ore reserves, existing productive capacity, and the technical feasibility of potential uranium mines. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-4075.

Energy conservation/housing and oil conversion programs (EMR 33-41)

EMR 33

Buildings and residences Super Energy-Efficient (R-2000) Home Program: this program will provide a total of $6 million to assist in the construction of approximately 300 super energy-efficient housing units (R-2000 homes) across the country over a three-year period from 1981-82 to 1983-84. Funding available under the program will be used to assist in the design and evaluation of houses constructed in the demonstration projects, and to train builders and tradespeople in the appropriate techniques involved in construction. Details of the program were developed in co-operation with the Housing and Urban Development Association of Canada (HUDAC), which will be managing and implementing the program on behalf of EMR. In Quebec, the program is administered by the Association provinciale des constructeurs d'habitations du Quebec Inc. A federal advisory committee has been established to provide direction and to oversee the program. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Arctic housing standards: energy conservation standards for arctic housing and housing in permafrost areas, taking into account climate conditions, energy supplies and costs, and future housing requirements, will be developed in conjunction with the provincial and territorial governments and will apply to all federally funded and insured housing units constructed. A committee has been established including representatives of the involved provinces and territories, as well as those from Energy, Mines and Resources Canada, Indian and Northern Affairs Canada, Public Works Canada, and the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, to develop the standards. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 995-1118.

EMR 35

Canadian Home Insulation Program (CHIP): this program is administered by EMR to promote residential energy conservation. The processing of grants is carried out by the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation under contract with EMR. Under this program, owners, landlords, or tenants may receive up to $500 for the insulation and air sealing of single family homes, semi-detached or rowhouse units, small apartment buildings, and non-profit hostels. To be eligible, a structure must be a principal residence, no more than three storeys high, that was built before 1 January 1971. In Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, however, homes that were eligible but did not apply for a grant under the former provincial Home Insulation Program qualify for CHIP grants providing they were built prior to 1 January 1977. In the Yukon, the Northwest Territories, and Newfoundland, homes built before 1 September 1977 are eligible for a CHIP grant. The basic taxable grant covers 60 per cent of insulating material costs or combined material and labour costs to a maximum of $500. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: CHIP regional offices listed above, or see toll-free numbers listing on page 19; technical information only, Ottawa Hull (613) 995-1801.

Energy conservation and oil substitution: the Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch (ECOS) administers industrial and home energy conservation programs including energy audits, insulation programs, and the Canada Oil Substitution Program. Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: call the HEATLINE see toll-free numbers listing on page 20, or Ottawa Hull (613) 995-1801.

EMR 37

Canada Oil Substitution Program (COSP): COSP provides government of Canada grants to homeowners and businesses to help them meet the costs of converting their heating systems from oil to more plentiful domestic energy sources. COSP is a 10-year program, with the major objective of reducing the use of oil to less than 10 per cent of total energy use in residential space and water heating. COSP operates through gas and electric utilities to provide grants for conversion to natural gas and electricity in regions where supply is available. The program is also delivered through EMR regional offices for those who convert to energy sources other than gas and electricity, such as wood, solar heating, or propane.

COSP provides taxable grants covering half the eligible costs of materials and labour for conversion of the heating system, up to a maximum grant of $800, for single-family residences (including single, detached houses; semi-detached or row houses, where each unit has its own heating system; mobile homes that have their own heating systems) and individually heated buildings, such as farm buildings, warehouses, factories, churches, schools, hospitals, homes for senior citizens, public libraries. For residential buildings containing two or more self-contained, family dwelling units, grants vary in proportion with the number of units in the building.

COSP applies to conversions undertaken on or after 28 October 1980 and before 31 December 1990. The date of conversion to be eligible for COSP is the date on which equipment was installed and ready for use, normally the date of inspection. Canada Oil Substitution Program. EMR 38
HEATLINE information on energy conservation and renewable energy: the Heatline Energy Advisory Service is a national information centre responsible for promoting home energy conservation and substitution of oil with other forms of home heating. Information is also available on renewable energy forms such as solar, biomass, wind, geothermal, tidal and ocean energy, small-scale hydro-electric power, and new technological advances such as heat pumps. The HEATLINE is a toll-free, telephone advisory service that responds to general and technical questions on home energy conservation, home heating systems, and the Canada Oil Substitution Program. Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: call the HEATLINE see toll-free numbers listing on page 20; in Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-1801.

EMR 39
Conservation and Renewable Energy Offices (CREOs). CREOs in each province and the territories are equipped to provide a full range of services to the public on energy options and programs. In addition to administering the conservation and renewable energy portion of COSP, and other energy programs, CREOs provide valuable advice to the federal government on specific regional energy concerns. Inquiries: nearest Conservation and Renewable Energy office see Part II.

EMR 40
Remote Community Demonstration Program: this program will promote awareness and assist in the development of oil reduction and displacement opportunities in remote communities in the territories and provinces. These opportunities consist of alternative energy supply technologies and energy conservation measures in the generation of electrical power and in space heating. In two phases over the period of summer 1982 to March 1986, the program will first, assist remote communities in identifying and assessing their off-oil options and second, demonstrate a limited number of technically and economically feasible options in selected areas across the country. Other authorities responsible for or having a direct interest in remote community energy supply are eligible for assistance under the program. Coal and Alternative Energy Branch. Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: nearest Conservation and Renewable Energy Office see Part II or Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

EMR 41
Industrial Conversion Assistance Program (ICAP): ICAP makes government of Canada contributions to industrial and commercial establishments and private institutions to help them meet the costs of converting boilers and process heaters from number 6 fuel oil to pipeline natural gas. The program is administered by local gas suppliers and utilities under the direction of Energy, Mines and Resources Canada. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch. Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

Energy conservation industry, commerce, agriculture (EMR 42-47)

EMR 42
National Energy Audit Program: this program will help industrial and commercial establishments to identify areas of energy waste and to plan and implement corrective measures. The federal government is providing funds over the three-year period between 1981 and 31 March 1984 to be applied on the basis of a cost-sharing ratio (80:20) with the provinces. This program is being implemented through federal-provincial agreements aimed at encouraging energy conservation in industry, commerce, and institutions. Industrial and commercial businesses will be eligible for on-site energy audits and follow-up consultant advice grants. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch. Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

Industrial Energy Management Task Force: this task force emphasizes effective management of energy requirements by Canadian industry and promotes management and husbanding of energy resources in Canadian manufacturing. The aims of the 16 task force sectors are to promote energy conservation, to exchange information on efficient use of energy and on related projects, to report on conservation efforts, and to maintain contacts with government representatives. The program activities of the task force include regular meetings, seminars, and workshops for exchange of information on energy conservation measures and energy-efficient technologies; the setting of voluntary, energy efficiency improvement targets, and regular reporting of progress toward these goals; preparation of annual, energy efficiency progress reports; consultation with government officials and provision of a focal point for government-industry dialogue on energy conservation issues. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447

Commercial, Institutional, Agricultural Energy Management Task Force: this task force aims to promote energy conservation and the efficient use of energy resource requirements in these sectors. The main functions of the task force are to exchange and disseminate energy conservation information and accomplishments; to serve as a focal point for discussions concerning measures to overcome constraints to improvement of energy efficiency, whether technical, procedural, or financial; to establish targets for improvement in energy use and to develop a system for periodic reporting of progress; to promote participation in the reporting system; to serve as a major communications link on energy matters between government, business, media, and the public. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

EMR 45

Atlantic Energy Conservation Investment Program (AECIP): this program involves the provision of contributions to industrial, commercial, and institutional establishments in the Atlantic provinces to finance a portion of their energy conservation investments. The federal government is providing $40 million over a five-year period for contributions covering up to 50 per cent of capital costs for projects offering energy savings payback in periods greater than three years and less than eight years. The program will be administered, promoted, and monitored by EMR through Conservation and Renewable Energy offices in the Atlantic provinces. AECIP will complement the National Energy Audit Program administered by all the Atlantic provinces under existing federal-provincial agreements. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

EMR 46

Retrofit Program/Crown-owned buildings: this program aims to accelerate cost-effective, energy retrofits in federal government buildings. It provides funds to carry out utility and facility audits, to prepare plans and specifications, and to implement capital improvements. Projects with a good demonstration value in retrofit are emphasized when funding priorities are set for study and analysis reports and capital improvements. For this program, $120 million are available for the fiscal period 1981-82 to 1985-86. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

EMR 47

Energy conservation equipment/fast tax write-off: the 25 May 1976 federal budget added Class 34 to Schedule 2, Capital Cost Classes of the Income Tax Regulations. This entitled taxpayers to a three-year modified straight-line tax write-off to cover the capital cost of new equipment that would otherwise be placed in Class 2 or Class 8 of the Regulations. On 11 December 1979 the period was extended to cover assets purchased before 1985, and additions were made to the list of qualifying materials. Conservation and Renewable Energy Development and Demonstration Program: federal-provincial, cost-sharing agreements provide funds to undertake projects in the development and demonstration of renewable energy sources and conservation measures. The agreements aim to introduce to the marketplace new technologies, products, and services. Any Canadian business institution, agency, or individual may apply, if undertaking a project designed to increase energy efficiency and contribute to national energy and industrial policies. These programs are available in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, and Yukon and the Northwest Territories. A similar federal program is available in Prince Edward Island, and was introduced in Québec in 1983. Coal and Alternative Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. EMR 50
Solar Domestic Water Heating Demonstration: the third phase of this program, funded in the amount of $3.8 million during 1983-84, will include over 2000 installations of solar water heating systems by 31 March 1984. EMR contributes up to 50 per cent of the installed price of the system. The program seeks to demonstrate cost/performance improvements in systems, provide a market for systems, provide installation and operational experience, and generate public interest. A monitoring of system performance and operation will follow once the installations are completed. Renewable Energy Division, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: nearest Conservation and Renewable Energy Office see Part II.

EMR 51
Commercial, Industrial Solar Demonstration: the first phase of this program will result in an expenditure of $2 million during 1983-84 on solar installations for commercial and industrial users. EMR will contribute funds towards individual projects based on the amount of energy that can be delivered by the solar energy system. The program seeks to demonstrate cost/performance improvements in commercial solar energy systems, provide a commercial market for systems, provide installation and marketing experience, and generate interest in the commercial sector. Monitoring system performance and operation will be an important component of this program. Renewable Energy Division, Coal and Alternative Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: nearest Conservation and Renewable Energy Office see Part II.

EMR 52
Special Projects Solar Demonstration: this program, funded for $300 000 during 1983-84, aims to provide funding for special projects that can demonstrate the capacity to improve the cost/performance of solar energy systems or accelerate the acceptance of such systems by the Canadian public and commercial sector. A typical project this year will be a limited demonstration of seasonal solar water heating systems. Monitoring of projects will follow. Renewable Energy Division, Coal and Alternative Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: nearest Conservation and Renewable Energy Office see Part II, or Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

EMR 53
Energy from the Forest (ENFOR) Biomass Conversion Program: this federally funded program promotes the development and application of technologies for the conversion of forest biomass into energy, prepared fuels, and energy-intensive chemicals. The program is conducted almost entirely by contracting research, development, and demonstration projects to Canadian organizations and individuals capable of performing the work in this field. Biomass conversion projects are selected for funding by an ENFOR committee from proposals received in response to an annual request for proposals issued in the early fall. ENFOR Secretariat, Coal and Alternative Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

EMR 54
Forest Industry Renewable Energy Program: this program provides financial incentives for the installation of bioenergy projects by industrial, commercial, and institutional energy users. The program aims to accelerate the introduction of technically proven and economically attractive bioenergy projects. Eligible projects can include wood residue combustion or gasification facilities for producing heat or steam or for cogenerating heat and electricity. The program is also available for energy projects involving municipal, industrial, and agricultural wastes. Renewable Energy Division, Coal and Alternative Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

EMR 57
Alternative fuels research and development: through the National Energy Program, the federal government is providing funds of up to $100 million for research and development in the area of new liquid fuels, between 1981 and 1983. The government expects research funds from Canadian industries and provincial governments to supplement this amount. Coal and Alternative Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

EMR 58
Motor vehicle fuel consumption standards: legislation was passed to enforce fuel consumption standards for new motor vehicles. The legislation will not be proclaimed unless there is non-compliance with the continuing voluntary standards. It provides a framework for detailed study of standards for beyond 1985 (including a study of alternative fuels) and the inclusion of standards for light vans and trucks. Coal and Alternative Energy Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9447.

EMR 59
Federal Propane Vehicle Porgram: this program is designed to demonstrate the use of propane as a motor fuel by a motor vehicle fleet. The federal government proposes to have at least 8000 Crown-owned vehicles powered by propane in 1985 by offering federal departments and agencies up to $1100 (for 1983-84) for each vehicle converted to propane or purchased as a propane-fuelled vehicle. The program will offer public information on fuel consumption and costs, propane vehicle maintenance, propane carburation equipment and financial savings realized by conversion, as well as on the supply and distribution of propane. Energy Conservation and Oil Substitution Branch, Conservation and Non-Petroleum Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-3433.

EMR 60
Natural Gas Vehicle Program: taxable federal contributions of $500 are offered to individuals and fleet operators for each vehicle converted to or purchased new with a natural gas system. Research and development services/minerals and energy: the Canada Centre for Mineral and Energy Technology (CANMET) conducts, sponsors, and contracts out work for applied research and development on mineral, metal, and fossil fuel technology, reflecting national and regional needs, and complementing research by the private sector. The technical knowledge base is disseminated by research staff and information specialists. Laboratory facilities are also utilized in carrying out research projects for industry on a full or partial cost-recovery basis. Some of the continuing studies include those relating to: coal and mineral resource assessment, mining technology, and the health and safety of miners; fuel combustion and energy conservation technology; health, safety, and pollution control in the mineral industries; improved recovery from oil sands and heavy oil; explosives testing; improved quality of mineral-based materials; nuclear and mineral waste disposal; development of standards and specifications for improved recovery from low-grade ores; and chemical analysis. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4029.

Minerals and explosives (EMR 102-114)

EMR 102
Minerals commodity-specific information, consultative service: information on mineral commodities based on domestic and foreign sources (producers, suppliers, markets, quotas, and prices) is provided. Non-confidential files may be viewed on the premises. Mineral Policy Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9466; industrial minerals, ext 215; non-ferrous, ext 212; ferrous, ext 232.

EMR 103
Mineral inventory consultative service: the National Mineral Inventory Division maintains records of known mineral deposits and occurrences (excluding petroleum and natural gas) throughout Canada. Some 19 000 records have been completed to date. Each record contains narrative-form summaries on the mineral's history of exploration and development, its history of production, if any, and a geological description of the deposit; details on location, map references, and bibliography are included. A computerized index/data file (MINSYS) to the Canadian mineral occurrence records is maintained. The Division also maintains current Canadian resource (reserve/production) data by deposit, and occasionally publishes compilations on mineral occurrences and resources. Records are available to the public on a fixed fee-per-unit basis and on a cost-recovery basis for computer files. National Mineral Inventory Division, Mineral Policy Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9466.

Energy, Mines and Resources Canada (continued)

EMR 104
Mineral Processing Technology: CANMET develops and promotes technology so as to increase the recovery value of known Canadian mineral deposits. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4039 or 995-4029.

EMR 105
Mineral resources/conservation: current information is available on conservation measures applicable to the mineral industry and on recommended actions that government, industry, and the public can take to conserve mineral resources. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4029 or 995-4039.

EMR 106
Mineral resources/deposits/inventory and classification: CANMET studies the characteristics and probable location of mineral resources and records, and classifies mineral deposits available to Canada. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4029 or 995-4039.

EMR 107
Mineral statistics: a consultative service is offered on mineral statistical problems, and on data collection, availability, and interpretation. Statistics are compiled on mineral exploration expenditures, value of production, inventories, shipments, production of refined minerals and metal, minerals and metal prices, operating costs, trade by country, consumption by end use, employment, and wages. Information Systems Division, Mineral Policy Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9466 ext 355.

EMR 108
Mineral supply/resources and reserves/consultative service: information is provided on resource concepts, classification and terminology, reserves and additional resources, the magnitude and effectiveness of mineral exploration in Canada, long-range mine supply capability, and ocean mining. Resource Policy Division, Mineral Policy Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9466 ext 344.

EMR 109
Mineral trade/consultative service: an information service is offered on foreign interests competing with Canadian mineral producers, foreign investment opportunities for Canadian firms, and foreign policies on mineral trade. International Mineral Affairs Division, Mineral Policy Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9466 ext 216.

EMR 110
Mineral transportation/consultative service: the Mineral Policy Sector conducts research on domestic and foreign mineral transportation costs and modes to help in policy development and mineral forecasting. Regional Mineral Affairs Division, Mineral Policy Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9466 ext 207.

EMR 111
Mineral products/transportation technology: CANMET is responsible for the development and promotion of technology to increase efficiency in the transportation of minerals and mineral products, including coal. Technology Information Division, CANMET, Research and Technology Sector. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-4029.

Regional Offices: Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montréal (Saint-Laurent), Bedford.

Information: Toronto (Downsview) (416) 667-4551.

EC 1
Atmospheric conditions: weather observations, forecasts, warnings, consultation, and advice are provided 24 hours a day for the general public and for people involved in aviation, shipping, agriculture and forest protection. Marine weather forecasts, warnings, and observations are provided for Canadian waterways and the adjacent waters of the Atlantic, Arctic, and Pacific oceans. The services of a port meteorological officer are available at the larger ports in Canada. Inquiries: nearest weather office see Part II.

EC 2
Climate applications: the Canadian Climate Centre is responsible for analysis and interpretation of climatic data; for assessment of the impact of climate on national concerns such as agricultural production, industrial design, Arctic development and transportation, wind and solar energy, recreation and tourism; and for the provision of information and consultation services to those concerned with policy, planning and design, forest management, and human health. Inquiries: Toronto (Downsview) (416) 667-4614.

EC 3
Climate services: the Canadian Climate Centre makes available climatological data (in the form of publications, statistical abstracts, microfilm, digital data, or custom computer analysis) to the general public and to specialized users, such as engineers, lawyers, and architects. Inquiries: Toronto (Downsview), computer products (416) 667-4953; publications (416) 667-4614.

EC 4
Climate research: the Canadian Climate Centre provides atmospheric circulation statistics and diagnoses, and carries out research on climate modelling, carbon dioxide impacts, climate sensitivity, climatic trends, climatic variability, climate monitoring, general circulation modelling, energy budget studies, radiative-photochemical models, thermodynamic models and statistical long-range prediction. Canadian Climate Centre. Inquiries: Toronto (Downsview) (416) 667-4924.

EC 5
Hydrometeorological and marine applications of climate information: the Canadian Climate Centre provides products and analyses that are specially tailored to aid in the design and/or operation of water supply, flood control, and other hydrological structures and systems. Rainfall, snowfall, snowmelt, and evaporation are among the subjects receiving special attention. Advice, consultation, and specialized analyses of a climatological nature concerning the winds and weather over, and sea-state of (as indicated by wave heights, water temperature, and so on) Canadian lakes and ocean areas, are provided to the general public and to the transportation, fishing, hydrocarbon, and marine or coastal engineering industries. Canadian Climate Centre. Inquiries: Toronto (Downsview) (416) 667-4617.

EC 17
Acid rain: EPS plans, co-ordinates, and manages Environment Canada's acid rain program and provides leadership and co-ordination for the overall federal program. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (819) 997-1831.

EC 18
Commercial chemicals: EPS assesses new chemicals and the use patterns of existing chemicals in order to develop and implement control strategies for commercial chemicals that, upon entry to the environment, might present an unacceptable level of risk to human health or the environment. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (819) 997-1499.

EC 19
Environmental emergencies: EPS stimulates the development and application of spill preparedness and measures to prevent or lessen the impact of environmental emergencies, such as those associated with oil and toxic chemical spills. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (819) 997-3352.

EC 20
Technical services: EPS is responsible for the development, demonstration, and transfer of new technology for efficient effluent treatment, residue management, and response to spills of environmentally hazardous materials. Other activities include development of a pollution measurement capability for stationary and mobile sources, operation of analytical laboratories, technical training, and provision of technical advice concerning the protection of environmental quality. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (819) 994-2151.

EC 21
Socio-economic impact analyses: socio-economic impact analyses of new health, safety, and fairness regulations are conducted by EPS to improve the allocation of economic resources and the information provided to decision-makers, and to allow for increased public participation in the regulation-making process. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (819) 997-2045.

EC 22
Toxic chemicals management: EPS administers this departmental program to prevent or control entry of harmful quantities of toxic chemicals into the components of the environment—air, water, land, plant and animal life, and man. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (819) 997-1831.

EC 23
Waste management: EPS activities in waste management are aimed at the prevention, control, and mitigation of environmental and public health problems associated with the handling and disposal of hazardous wastes in both the terrestrial (Transportation of Dangerous Goods Act) and marine (Ocean Dumping Control Act) environments. Waste reduction/recycling and conservation of energy and resources are key elements of waste management strategies that are developed and promoted. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (819) 997-1538.

EC 24
Control of threats from human activities: EPS is responsible for ensuring that human activities are conducted in a manner that minimizes adverse impacts on the environment. It maintains centres of expertise on the environmental consequences of human activities in the following sectors: mining, mineral and metallurgical processes; renewable resources extraction and processing; urban activities; chemical industries; oil, gas, and energy; vehicle emissions and transportation systems. Through inventories, and characterization and assessment studies, EPS identifies current or potential environmental concerns (air pollution, water pollution, waste generation and on-site disposal, or other environmental disturbances) and develops and promotes preventive or remedial measures on a national, interprovincial, or international level. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (819) 994-2494.

Regional Office: Vancouver.

Information: Ottawa/Hull (819) 997-2725 or 997-2800, or Vancouver (604) 544-2431.

EC 25
Environmental assessment and review: the Federal Environmental Assessment Review Office carries out a program to ensure that environmental effects are taken into account early in the planning of projects that require federal money or property.

Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada (EC 26)
Terrasses de la Chaudière
10 Wellington Street
Hull, Québec
(Mail: Ottawa, Ontario K1A 1G2)

Information: Ottawa/Hull (819) 994-3222.

EC 26
Commemoration of historic sites and monuments: under the Historic Sites and Monuments Act of 1953, the Board acts as an advisor on historical matters to the Minister of the Environment, whose responsibility it is to implement a program of commemorating historic sites of national significance. In rare cases, if the Board deems a certain structure to be of exceptional significance, it may recommend to the Minister that the Department provide financial assistance through a cost-sharing agreement with one or more parties, to aid in the building's acquisition or restoration.

Inland Waters Directorate (EC 27-31)
Place Vincent Massey
351 Saint-Joseph Boulevard
Hull, Québec
(Mail: Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0E7)

Regional Offices: Vancouver, Regina, Burlington, Québec (Sainte-Foy), Dartmouth.

Information: Ottawa/Hull (819) 997-6555 or 997-2800, or any regional office see Part II under cities listed above.

EC 27
Flood control through mapping: the Inland Waters Directorate reduces the potential for future flood damage and subsequent federal compensation through a federal-provincial program of mapping and publicizing designated flood risk areas, and through the control of governmental expenditures in such areas.

EC 28
Water management data: the Inland Waters Directorate plans and implements freshwater management programs. For selected watersheds, it prepares hydrological forecasts and carries out a systematic collection and compilation of data (on streamflow, water levels, sediment, water quality, groundwater, snow and ice, glaciers, and water use) for the management of inland waters.

EC 29
Water management flood damage reduction: the Inland Waters Directorate, in co-operation with the provinces, protects existing development from flooding, through the construction of dikes and dams in those areas where the benefits of flood protection exceed the costs and where there is a major national concern.

EC 30
Water management/research: the Inland Waters Directorate undertakes freshwater research and technology development programs, and provides for additional research and development by contract. The Directorate also provides funding for research on water-related issues carried out by non-federal agencies.

EC 31
Water resources/river basin management: in co-operation with the provinces, the Inland Waters Directorate plans and implements measures for the conservation, development, and utilization of water resources in river basins of national interest.

EC 32
Land use policy development and co-ordination: the Lands Directorate is responsible for the co-ordination and implementation of the federal policy on land use. It also represents Environment Canada on the Treasury Board Advisory Committee on Federal Land Management, advising on the implementation of the Federal Land Management Principle.

Environment Canada (continued)

EC 33
Land use research and planning: the Lands Directorate conducts research into major national and regional land problems to inform the public and decision-makers of their causes, solutions, and importance to the nation. Programs to analyse the loss of agricultural land, the preservation of special resource lands, and federal involvement in the solution of land use problems are undertaken. Examples of current initiatives are the analysis of stress on the land resource, analysis of planning measures and their effectiveness across Canada, analysis of the abandonment of marginal lands, the rehabilitation of mining sites, and evaluation of the impact of federal programs on the nation's fruitland resource. This program also provides land planning assistance to the Environmental Assessment and Review Process (EARP) and to specific jurisdictions in solving land problems (Fraser Estuary Studies, Wetland Studies).

EC 34
Publications and maps: the Lands Directorate produces and distributes public information materials (such as the Canada Land Inventory, the LAND newsletter, brochures, books, reports, and maps) that relate to the land and its use. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (819) 997-2010.

Export Development Corporation (EDC)

Head Office
110 O'Connor Street
(PO Box 655)
Ottawa, Ontario
K1P 5T9

Regional Offices: Vancouver, Toronto, Montréal, Halifax.

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 237-2570; regional or other offices see Part II under cities listed above.

The Corporation operates on a commercial basis to help Canadian exporters who are competitive in terms of price, quality, and delivery of service, meet normal commercial credit competition in world markets.
Minister responsible:
Minister of State for International Trade

EDC 1
Financing (medium- and long-term to foreign buyers): the Corporation facilitates medium- and long-term export financing to foreign buyers of Canadian capital goods and services. Funds are provided either directly to Canadian suppliers on behalf of the foreign borrower or by a service called note purchase, which is the purchase of credit notes payable to the Canadian suppliers. (This service provides the exporters with cash sales.) The Corporation also guarantees loans by banks and financial institutions to foreign buyers in support of Canadian exports.

EDC 2
Guarantees (performance and bid security): the Corporation provides 100 per cent unconditional guarantees to banks that provide performance and bid-related securities in the form of an irrevocable letter of credit issued to a foreign buyer on behalf of a Canadian exporter.

EDC 3
Guarantees (supplier and buyer credit): the Corporation issues 100 per cent unconditional guarantees to banks and other lenders who provide non-recourse financing in respect of an EDC-insured sale of capital goods (supplier credit), or who make loans to buyers of Canadian capital goods and services (buyer credit).

EDC 4
Insurance (assignment of exporter's rights and obligations): while the Export Development Corporation will normally agree to pay any proceeds payable under an exporter's policy to a bank or other financial organization in order to facilitate the exporter's banking arrangements, if a bank or other financial institution agrees to purchase an insured foreign receivable from the exporter, EDC is prepared to agree to the assignment of the exporter's rights and obligations under the policy to the bank or financial institution.

EDC 5
Insurance (consortium): Export Development Corporation insurance is available to cover individual members of an exporting consortium against a call on a performance security due to the failure of one or more other members of the consortium to perform.

EDC 6
Insurance (export credit): Export Development Corporation credit insurance is available to cover non-payment by foreign buyers due to commercial or political events beyond the control of the seller or buyer (insolvency, default, cancellation of import or export licenses, foreign exchange blockages, and so on). In certain instances, only cover for political risk can be issued.

EDC 7
Insurance (foreign investment): Export Development Corporation insurance is available to cover Canadian foreign investments against three, broad, political risks—inconvertibility of or the inability to repatriate capital and earnings, expropriation, and war or revolution.

EDC 8
Insurance (performance security): Export Development Corporation insurance is available to cover an exporter against a wrongful call of a performance security, the security being in the form of an irrevocable letter of credit provided by the exporter's bank in favour of the buyer.

EDC 9
Insurance (predisbursement): Export Development Corporation insurance is available to cover the failure of a buyer/borrower to authorize EDC to disburse loan funds in payment for goods produced or services rendered.

EDC 10
Insurance (surety bonds): Export Development Corporation insurance is available to cover a portion of the risk assumed by a domestic surety company providing a performance bond to a foreign buyer.

The Federal Business Development Bank assists in the establishment and development of business enterprises in Canada by providing them with financial and management services.
Minister responsible:
Minister of Industry, Trade and Commerce and Regional Economic Expansion

FBDB 1
Financial services: the FBDB extends financial assistance to almost every type of new or existing Canadian business that does not have other sources of financing available to it on reasonable terms and conditions. Loans, loan guarantees, interim financing, equity financing, or any combination of these in whatever manner best suits the particular needs of the business are made available. Particular attention is given to smaller organizations. FBDB also provides term loans with interest rates fixed for one to five years as well as floating-rate loans that can be switched to fixed rates at the borrower's option.

FBDB 2
Investment Banking: in co-operation with the private sector, FBDB serves as a catalyst to attract more equity financing from private financial institutions. Although FBDB's financial participation in companies is temporary in nature, it is planned for a period of time sufficient to provide a durable benefit to the company and a return for the Bank that is commensurate with the risk.

FBDB 3
Financial Planning Program: this program offers a series of do-it-yourself financial planning kits, a package service, and an intermediation service to assist small and medium-sized firms in preparing and presenting their business plans.

FBDB 4
CASE (Counselling Assistance to Small Enterprises): FBDB's counselling program, CASE, uses the expertise of retired, successful, business people to assist small firms in improving their methods of doing business. For a nominal fee, experienced counsellors provide advice in all areas of business management, including accounting, marketing, production, and personnel. It is not necessary to be a borrower from FBDB to obtain CASE services. Inquiries: CASE offices see Part II under nearest town or see toll-free numbers listing on page 22.

FBDB 5
Training: to help owners and managers of small Canadian businesses improve their management skills, FBDB conducts management training seminars in towns and cities throughout Canada. These training services include full and half-day seminars on various business topics, joint seminars organized in co-operation with professional or industrial associations or groups, as well as owner manager courses developed by FBDB for the provincial and territorial ministries of education. These courses are offered to the public through the adult education departments of community colleges across Canada. In addition, FBDB also offers management clinics in all of its branches. These clinics are self-teaching management development tools combining the use of a videotape and workbook. Management workshops are also organized locally to suit specific needs.

FBDB 6
Information: at each FBDB branch, the Small Business Information Service provides up-to-date information for business, including information from Statistics Canada, trade associations, and other public and private sources. FBDB also publishes a pocketbook series entitled Minding Your Own Business, which covers a variety of business-related topics. Also, it issues a quarterly tabloid entitled Profit$, mailed to most businesses in Canada without charge.

HWC 1
Food safety/nutritional quality/food standards/microbial quality: the Food Directorate conducts programs to protect the safety, quality, and nutritional value of food. These include the development of legal standards for food identity, under the Food and Drugs Act, and a range of regulatory and research activities to identify and control dangers associated with the nutritional quality of foods and microbiological and chemical hazards in the food supply. The Directorate's work includes research and evaluation of scientific data on existing and potential foods, food constituents and nutrients, micro-organisms and microbial toxins, additives, agricultural chemicals, and chemical and biological contaminants, in relation to actual or proposed use and occurrence in the Canadian diet. Such research contributes to the safety and quality of the food supply and to the formulation of appropriate standards and guidelines for products and manufacturing processes, and for nutrient intakes, and the provision of advice to other departments concerned with food. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 992-8304.

HWC 2
Environmental quality and health hazards: the Environmental Health Directorate is engaged in a range of programs that collectively serve to identify, assess, and reduce health hazards in the environment, in consumer products, and in medical devices. The Directorate serves to protect Canadians from health hazards associated with the physical, chemical, and technological aspects of natural and man-made environments. The Directorate's work focusses on the following program areas: product safety; drinking water; environmental criteria; predictive toxicology; occupational toxicology; pesticides; environmental health surveys; long-range transport of air pollutants; environmental radioactivity; X-rays; non-ionizing radiation; radiation dosimetry and occupational monitoring; radiopharmaceuticals; internal dosimetry; occupational radiation exposure evaluation; medical device research and evaluation; clinical safety criteria; device standards; device notification; and device surveillance. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-6015.

HWC 3
Industry compliance/health standards: to minimize health hazards in foods, drugs, cosmetics, and medical devices, the Field Operations Directorate ensures industry compliance with applicable standards and regulations. The Directorate inspects the operations of manufacturers and importers of food, drugs, cosmetics, and medical devices, and conducts analytical monitoring surveys of their products to ensure compliance with standards and regulations. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 996-7172; regional Health Protection offices see Part II under cities listed above; district offices see Part II.

HWC 4
Disease identification/health surveillance: the Laboratory Centre for Disease Control is responsible for the assessment of the health status of Canadians, disease surveillance, and, in collaboration with provincial health departments, for epidemic investigation and control. National reference laboratory services are maintained for the identification of infectious disease agents, and the maintenance of reference methods and materials in clinical chemistry. Programs on hospital-acquired infection and laboratory biosafety are in operation, as is a program for tobacco control. The Centre also reviews and distributes information on hazardous substances and adverse drug reactions and provides advice to poison control centres across Canada. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 992-6385.

HWC 5
Consumer complaints and inquiries: the Health Protection Branch investigates consumer complaints concerning food, drugs, cosmetics, and medical devices that involve illness, injury, spoilage, or ineffectiveness. It also provides information on foods, drugs, cosmetics, medical and radiation-emitting devices to ensure their safe use by consumers. Consultants from Educational Services develop educational programs on Branch topics for health professionals, industry, media, and consumers. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 996-7172 or nearest district or regional Health Protection office see Part II.

National Museums of Canada (NMC)

Head Office
Esplanade Laurier, West Tower
300 Laurier Avenue West
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0M8

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-9832.

The National Museums of Canada aims to demonstrate the products of nature and the works of man with special but not exclusive reference to Canada. Its policy supports activities that increase public access to the collections of Canadian museums and art galleries, and that lead to greater preservation of those collections. The NMC incorporates in a single administration Canada's four national museums in the capital as well as a series of national programs that serve the Canadian public both directly and through hundreds of museums and related institutions across the country.
Minister responsible:
Minister of Communications

The museums (NMC 1-4)

NMC 1
National Gallery of Canada: the National Gallery's permanent collection numbers more than 36 000 works of art, including the most important collection of Canadian art in the world. The Gallery exhibits a constantly changing selection of paintings, sculptures, prints, drawings, and photographs from its collection. It presents important exhibitions from other countries and circulates its own exhibitions throughout Canada and abroad. A varied program of lectures, films, and guided tours is maintained for visitors. The Gallery also produces a wide range of publications. Inquiries: National Gallery of Canada, Elgin and Albert Streets, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0M8 (613) 992-4636.

NMC 2
The National Museum of Man conducts research, collects and preserves artefacts, and disseminates information in the fields of Canadian archaeology, ethnology, folk culture, and social and military history. It issues scholarly and popular publications, organizes and sustains travelling exhibitions as well as permanent displays, produces educational resource materials in various media, and provides regional and visitor programs in its two display facilities. The Canadian War Museum is a division of the National Museum of Man. Inquiries: Victoria Memorial Museum Building, Metcalfe and McLeod Streets, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0M8 (613) 992-3497; Canadian War Museum, 330 Sussex Drive, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0M8 (613) 992-2774.

NMC 3

The National Museum of Natural Sciences maintains collections and conducts research in the fields of botany, zoology, mineral sciences, and palaeobiology. Its natural history displays are presented in seven, permanent halls as well as in temporary and travelling exhibitions. Knowledge derived from the Museum's research and collections is made available through a variety of popular and scientific publications, educational programs, loans of specimens, films, workshops, conferences, and nature excursions. Inquiries: Victoria Memorial Museum Building, Metcalfe and McLeod Streets, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0M8 (613) 996-3102.

NMC 4

The National Museum of Science and Technology collects and exhibits artefacts illustrating the discoveries of modern science and the developments of technology. Its collections are in the fields of general, industrial, agricultural and communications technology, astronomy, printing, and aviation. The Museum's activities include permanent and temporary exhibitions, loans, air shows, and educational programs. The Museum's steam train carries passengers from Ottawa to Wakefield (Qué) and back during the months of July and August and on weekends until Thanksgiving weekend in October (for further information and tickets see NCC 19 under the National Capital Commission). The National Aviation Museum, containing nearly 100 aircraft, is part of the Museum of Science and Technology. Inquiries: 1867 St Laurent Boulevard, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0M8 (613) 998-4566; National Aviation Museum, Rockcliffe Air Base, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0M8 (613) 993-2010.

National programs (NMC 5-9)

NMC 5

Canadian Conservation Institute (CCI): the CCI provides specialized conservation services, research, training, and information to protect heritage treasures in public collections. Its mobile laboratories visit museums in all parts of the country. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 998-3721.

NMC 6

Canadian Heritage Information Network: this program assists museums in the development of automated and manual systems for the preservation and management of information about their collections, and provides a computerized mechanism for the sharing of that information. Over 150 institutions participate in the program, and the Network now contains data on more than two million objects. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 992-3333.

NMC 7

International Program: the International Program facilitates international exchange of exhibitions to and from Canada and fosters interest in international museum activities. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-2943.

NMC 8

Mobile Exhibits Program: the NMC's museumobiles travel to smaller communities in Canada that lack ready access to major museums. Their exhibits of artefacts and other illustrative materials depict the geographical, archaeological, natural, and social history of various regions of the country. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 998-3633.

NMC 9

Museum Assistance Programs: these programs provide financial and technical assistance to qualifying public museums, art galleries, and other related institutions, to increase access to Canada's cultural heritage and to ensure the preservation of that heritage. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 996-8504.

Publications (NMC 10)

NMC 10

Publications: information on priced publications may be obtained from the NMC by writing or phoning: Marketing Services, National Museums of Canada, 300 Laurier Avenue West, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0M8 (613) 593-4390. All four national museums produce a wide variety of free material that may be ordered directly from the individual museums.

National Parole Board (NPB)

Headquarters
Sir Wilfrid Laurier Building
340 Laurier Avenue West
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0R1

Regional Offices: Vancouver (Burnaby), Saskatoon, Kingston, Montréal, Moncton.

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-1308; regional offices see Part II under cities listed above.

The National Parole Board is an independent, administrative tribunal responsible for granting, denying, or revoking parole for inmates of federal and provincial institutions in the Prairie and Atlantic provinces. It may also revoke mandatory supervision of federal inmates. The Board's work involves eligibility criteria for conditional release, hearings, conditions of release, implementation of procedural safeguards, and communications and consultations with the police and the Correctional Service of Canada.
Minister responsible:
Solicitor General of Canada

NPB 1
Review of Parole Board decisions: the Internal Review Committee carries out internal re-examination of Parole Board decisions where parole was denied or revoked, or where mandatory supervision was revoked. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-1308.

NPB 2
Temporary absences: the Board has authority over the granting of all unescorted temporary absences to inmates of federal institutions for medical or humanitarian reasons.

NPB 3
Day parole: day parole is a limited form of parole designed to assist inmates to reintegrate into society on a gradual basis.

NPB 4
Pardon/federal offences: pardon may be granted under the Criminal Records Act to assist people who have been found guilty of a criminal offence and, having satisfied the sentence imposed, have subsequently shown that they are law-abiding citizens. The Clemency and Criminal Records Division of the Board determines the investigation required for each case, after which the Board submits a recommendation to the Solicitor General on whether a pardon should be granted. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 995-1308.

National Research Council Canada (NRC)

Head Office
Montréal Road
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0R6

Other offices: see below under individual programs.

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-9101.

The National Research Council is the federal government's largest and most diversified research organization. It plays a major role in developing new knowledge and in applying science and technology to further the government's priority goals for the economic and regional development of Canada. The Council's responsibilities include operating 16 research divisions, running major national facilities for both science and engineering, managing industrial development programs, and providing a national network for scientific and technical information.
Minister responsible:
Minister of State for Science and Technology

Energy research and development (NRC 1-8)

NRC 1
Renewable energy: the Council ensures that the technology being developed for tapping renewable sources of energy is successful and that the results of this research are available to the public. Division of Energy. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-3405.

NRC 2
Conversion of organic wastes: the Council is working on the improvement of fermentation technologies for converting organic wastes into methane fuel. Division of Energy. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-1342.

NRC 3
Energy-efficient designs: the Council investigates energy-efficient designs in building and in transport. Division of Energy. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-1421 or 993-2095.

National Research Council Canada (continued)

NRC 4
Fossil fuels: methods are being developed to clean coal by "spherical agglomeration." Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-2455.

NRC 5
Fusion energy: the Council is responsible for coordinating fusion energy research in a national program. The aim of such a program is to establish the necessary expertise in Canada to provide fusion reactors, if and when their feasibility is demonstrated. Division of Energy. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-0810.

NRC 6
Hydraulic and tidal energy: laboratory scale tests are conducted on conversion devices for wave, tidal, and river flow energy systems. Analytic and modelling techniques for hydraulic energy systems of all types are used for some of the tests. Division of Energy. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-2417.

NRC 7
Solar energy: NRC laboratories are investigating topics on solar energy ranging from the quality and quantity of sunshine to how it can be stored or converted into electricity. Division of Energy. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-2730.

NRC 8
Wind energy: studies in wind energy are primarily concerned with megawatt-scale, vertical-axis, wind turbine generators coupled to the existing electrical grid. Joint experiments with utility companies using 50 kw, vertical-axis wind turbine generators are providing data on the performance of these machines in remote communities in Canada and abroad. Division of Energy. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-3405.

Science and technology/research and development (NRC 9-18)

NRC 9
Chemistry: programs include the study of methods for preserving materials and prolonging their lifetime of use, as well as the detection of materials and processes that may harm the environment. Equally important is the search for alternative sources of energy and for methods to use available resources more efficiently. These practical activities are supported by fundamental research designed to provide a better understanding of nature in general and to extend expertise in areas likely to gain prominence in the future. Division of Chemistry. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-2330.

NRC 10
Physics: the Council is responsible for research into selected areas of physics, for the maintenance of Canada's reference measurement standards (time, length, mass, and temperature); for the calibration of measuring instruments for industry, hospitals, government, and universities; for designs for industrial products; and for giving scientific advice to government and universities. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-1208.

NRC 11
Biological sciences: scientists are studying the structures of biomolecules and how they relate to biological functions to broaden the knowledge of modern medicine in this field. Research is being carried out on antibiotics and other drugs, and on the nature of genes, to ensure that certain kinds of genetic experiments with great medical and industrial potential can proceed safely. Food scientists are studying ways of extending the storage time of meats and vegetables, and are also researching a bacteria-mediated process that converts plant wastes into methane. Division of Biological Sciences. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 992-5501.

NRC 12
Biomedical engineering: the Council conducts research in cardiovascular studies and ultrasonics as well as on aids to the handicapped, standards of rehabilitation, and rehabilitation technology. Division of Electrical Engineering. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-0330.

NRC 13
Pollution studies: the Council publishes scientific criteria for environmental quality and provides information services on pollution research. Division of Biological Sciences. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 996-6810.

NRC 14
Medical and surgical technology: the Council conducts research in the technology of control systems and medical and surgical instrumentation. Division of Mechanical Engineering. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-9208.

NRC 15
Computer technology: the Council carries out research in the development and application of computer technology (graphic display, pattern recognition, transportation and traffic control, cardiac studies, computer video graphics, modelling, numerical control, and seismic signal processing). Division of Electrical Engineering. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-2565.

NRC 16
Electrical engineering: computer technology is applied to the development of new electronic circuitry and devices, the transmission of electrical power, and the uses of electromagnetic radiation. Division of Electrical Engineering. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-1384.

NRC 17
Mechanical engineering: the Council maintains engineering and testing facilities for research and development in transportation (marine, road, rail, pipeline, and air transportation, as well as air cushion technology); in standards and standardization in the engineering industries; in computer applications, control systems, and human engineering, including medical instrumentation; and in manufacturing. The research in manufacturing covers a wide range of new industrial techniques and a number of energy-related developments. Division of Mechanical Engineering. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-2424 or other office see Part II under Vancouver.

NRC 18
Building: a comprehensive research program is carried out to meet Canada's needs for scientific information and knowledge in support of the construction industry. The Council provides technical support for the National Building Code for Canada, the National Fire Code for Canada, the Measures for Energy Conservation in New Buildings, Building Standards for the Handicapped, Residential Standards, and the Canadian Plumbing Code. Division of Building Research. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-9960; other offices see Part II under Halifax, Rogers Pass, Saskatoon, Thompson, or Vancouver.

Research institutes and laboratories (NRC 19-29)

NRC 19
Herzberg Institute of Astrophysics: the astrophysical observatories of the NRC detect and analyse light and other emanations from the universe. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 996-1455 (solar) or 821-2480 (meteor); for other offices see Part II under Lake Traverse, Penticton, Saskatoon, or Victoria.

NRC 20
Plant Biotechnology Institute (formerly the Prairie Regional Laboratory): the Institute is a key component in the national network of biotechnology research facilities. It carries out research in plant cell biology and biochemistry, molecular biology, plant energetics, microbiology, bio-organic chemistry, and the utilization of vascular plants and lower plants. Inquiries: Saskatoon (306) 665-4191.

NRC 21
Biotechnology Research Institute, Montréal (to be completed in 1986): research will focus on those areas of biotechnology most important to industry and the economy, that is, animal diagnostic chemicals and vaccines, bacterial ore leaching, pest control, nitrogen fixation, and genetic engineering. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-9260.

NRC 22
Institute for Manufacturing Technology, Winnipeg (to be completed in 1985): this laboratory will work closely with industry and research organizations throughout Canada to ensure the development and transfer to industry of appropriate computer and robotics technologies. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-1265.

NRC 23
Industrial Materials Research Institute: the Institute carries out research on industrial materials and techniques (for example, on corrosion, welding and joining, tribology, and forming techniques). Inquiries Montréal (514) 935-8513.

NRC 24
Arctic Vessel and Marine Research Institute, St John's (to be completed in 1985): here research work will include investigation of problems such as oil-drilling and navigation in ice-infested waters, development of icebreaking techniques, and the design of ships adapted to ice conditions. Researchers will use computers to analyse navigation conditions in ice-covered waters, computerized machine tools to build scale models of large ships, and large tanks to accommodate realistic tests on such models. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 993-1265.

NRC 25
The National Aeronautical Establishment (NAE) pursues research and development objectives in support of the aerospace industry. It is responsible for the maintenance and operation of the major aeronautical research facilities in Canada and conducts research in the areas of transportation, lighting and visibility, motor vehicle safety, and systems dynamics. Aeronautical aerodynamics is also extended into wind energy and industrial aerodynamics.

Under a co-operative agreement between the US National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the NRC, a Canadian industry team led by NAE engineers built the Canadarm, Canada's contribution to the space shuttle program.

The theory of aircraft structural analysis by numerical methods is used for civil and marine structures, and trace vapour analysis techniques, which have been developed to counter the threat of aircraft sabotage, are modified for pollution detection. National Aeronautical Establishment Inquiries: Ottawa Hull, general inquiries (613) 993-2450; aircraft safety research (613) 993-2469; motor vehicle safety research (613) 993-2450.

NRC 26
Canada Centre for Space Science: the purpose of the Centre is to plan, co-ordinate, and manage a space science program that includes scientists from university and government laboratories and a number of industrial contractors. The Centre is responsible for planning and evaluating future space science activities, funding the major expenses required by the program, providing space engineering expertise to the scientists, and acting as an interface between other scientists and Canadian industries contributing to the program. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 992-7884.

NRC 27
Western Laboratory: research and development are carried out in the areas of tribology (friction, wear, and lubrication), computer-aided, manufacturing micro-processors and small-scale technologies. Inquiries: Vancouver (604) 732-4471.

NRC 28
Atlantic Research Laboratory: the Laboratory is responsible for fundamental research into most areas of the Atlantic region's economy (steelmaking, seaweed harvesting, and farming). Inquiries: Dartmouth (902) 426-8070.

NRC 29
Canada Institute for Scientific and Technical Information (CISTI): scientific and technical information is available upon request. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 993-1600.

Industrial research assistance (NRC 30-32)

NRC 30
Industrial Research Assistance Program (IRAP): financial assistance is provided by the Council for approved industrial research projects in Canada. The NRC will defray the salaries of those researchers involved in approved projects. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 993-0331.

NRC 31
Program for Industry Laboratory Projects (PILP): this program transfers to industry the results of research done in all federal government laboratories. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 993-0695.

NRC 32
Technical information: NRC provides industrial trouble-shooting assistance to industries in Canada that lack sophisticated technical resources, in particular small- and medium-sized firms. A firm basis for technology transfer is provided by staff possessing long experience in this activity, and who maintain close liaison with client firms. In addition, the Science and Engineering Student Program (SESP) provides assistance to firms seeking solutions to short-term scientific, engineering, and technological problems, through the work of in-plant university or technical college students who are supervised by professional personnel. Inquiries: Ottawa Hull (613) 993-1753; for field offices see Part II under Winnipeg, Toronto (Don Mills), Kingston, London, Thorold, Montreal, Québec, St John's.

Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC)

Montréal Road
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0R6

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 993-3659.

Minister responsible:
Minister of State for Science and Technology

NSERC 1
The Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council promotes and assists research in the natural sciences and engineering, excluding the health sciences, and advises the Minister of State for Science and Technology. Through its program of research scholarships and grants, NSERC supports excellence for the creation of new knowledge in the natural sciences and engineering. The program also promotes and supports the development of research in selected fields of regional and national importance and assists in the development and provision of highly qualified manpower. NSERC grants and scholarships are intended primarily for university researchers and students.

Northern Canada Power Commission (NCPC)

Head Office
7909 51st Avenue
(PO Box 5700, Station L)
Edmonton, Alberta
T6C 4J8

Regional Offices: Whitehorse, Yellowknife.

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 465-3377; regional offices see Part II under Whitehorse and Yellowknife.

The Northern Canada Power Commission is a federal Crown corporation which operates under the authority of the Northern Canada Power Commission Act. It is concerned with the planning, construction, and management of public utilities, primarily electrical, on a commercial basis.
Minister responsible:
Minister of Indian and Northern Affairs

NCPC 1
Public utilities/planning and construction: the Commission is empowered to survey utility requirements and construct utility plants in the Northwest Territories, Yukon Territory and, subject to the approval of the Governor General in Council, elsewhere in Canada.

NCPC 2
Public utilities/operation: the Commission is the principal producer of electricity north of 60 degrees. It operates the main transmission networks in Yukon and the Northwest Territories. It also runs heat, water, and sewerage service utilities at Inuvik, and provides wholesale heat supply to the Northwest Territories government for distribution at Frobisher Bay. Residual heat recovery systems are operated at several locations.

Regional Offices: Vancouver, Edmonton, Toronto (Willowdale), Ottawa, Montréal, Halifax.

Field Offices: Whitehorse, Yellowknife, Calgary, Regina, Saskatoon, Churchill, Winnipeg, Thunder Bay, Sault Ste Marie, London, North Bay, Sudbury, Kingston, Rimouski, Québec, Saint John, Goose Bay, Charlottetown, St John's.

Information: Ottawa/Hull (613) 998-9560; regional and field offices see Part II under cities listed above; Canada Lands Company see PWC 3 below; Harbourfront Corporation see PWC 4 below.

The Department is responsible for the management and direction of the public works of Canada.
Minister responsible:
Minister of Public Works

PWC 1
Accommodation: the Department provides accommodation through construction, leasing, and marketing of space, as requested by federal departments and agencies, and ensures the optimal use of this space. It provides all the necessary building design and construction services, beginning with the initial architectural concept and continuing through all stages of planning and construction. Much of this work is done through the use of consultant architects and engineers operating under the direction of departmental staff. Design standards are set to ensure energy efficiency in new and existing structures, accessibility for handicapped people, and the preservation of heritage structures. The Department plans and initiates improvements to federal assets; it also operates, maintains, and manages accommodation, and provides many property management services to federal departments and agencies.

PWC 2
Federal real estate services: the Department is responsible for the management and maintenance of federal real property (land and any building or other structure) and makes available a complete realty service by acquiring, appraising, surveying, and developing real property. It is also concerned with expropriation and the disposal of buildings and land. The Department administers the Expropriation Act and maintains the Central Real Property Inventory (a computerized central record of the real property owned or leased on behalf of federal departments and agencies). The Department also administers the federal legislation providing for grants in lieu of property taxes on federal properties in municipalities across Canada.

PWC 3
The Canada Lands Company is a corporate structure under which subsidiary Crown Corporations have been established and assigned management and development responsibilities for the properties involved, under agreement with the Minister of Public Works Canada. The subsidiaries are: the Canada Lands Company (Vieux-Port de Montréal) Inc, which has a mandate to implement a plan to revitalize and manage lands owned by the Crown in Montréal in the area between Amherst Street and the Bonaventure Highway at the south of Commune Street, including the Cité du Havre; the Canada Lands Company (Vieux-Port de Québec) Inc, whose mandate is to implement a development framework for the revitalization of about 49 hectares of land and water lots in Québec City; the Canada Lands Company (Mirabel) Ltd, whose mandate is to administer the Mirabel Peripheral Lands, and to prepare and execute a plan for disposal of lands no longer required for protection of the airport. Inquiries: Montréal (514) 283-5256, Québec (418) 694-5534, Mirabel (514) 258-2451.

PWC 4
Harbourfront Corporation: this Crown corporation, which reports directly to the Minister of Public Works, is responsible for operating, managing, maintaining, and developing a 37-hectare site bordering Lake Ontario in Toronto. Inquiries: Toronto (416) 364-7127.

PWC 5
Master Specifications Secretariat: the Secretariat services the needs of public and private sectors on matters pertaining to the National Master Specification (NMS). The NMS is not a standard specification. It contains most of the specifications required for buildings and marine and heavy civil engineering works. The NMS is stored on a computer, and must be edited by the designer to suit individual project requirements. The Secretariat's services include the development, maintenance, and update of the NMS; provision of computer tapes on the NMS to private-sector wood processing firms; provision of advice, assistance, and training courses on NMS usage; and the production of reports, schedules, manuals, and the Addenda newsletter.

PWC 6
Documentation Centre: the Department prepares standards, guidelines, and similar technical documents for the use of architects, engineers, and staff in the design and construction of buildings, and in marine and transportation projects. These documents are stocked by the Documentation Centre and may be furnished to other departments and to the private sector upon request.

PWC 7
Special services: these include the development of new applications of technology for building operation and maintenance, including computer-aided design, thermography, nuclear shelters, and air cooling.

PWC 8
Marine Program: the Department provides for the construction, improvement, maintenance, and operation of PWC dry docks, locks, and dams. It offers design and construction services for the planning, establishment, and maintenance of marine facilities, including harbours, wharves, and breakwaters, which are required for federal programs carried out by Fisheries and Oceans, Transport Canada, and other government departments and agencies. Services for dredging are also offered. The Department also provides for the development and support of industry, and for water level control.

PWC 9
Transportation: the Department is responsible for the construction and maintenance of roads and bridges that come under the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal government, the most notable being the Northwest and Yukon Highway Systems. Is is also responsible for the construction of the Trans-Canada Highway through national parks, as well as for the federal government's share of the responsibility for the administration, design, construction, and maintenance of international and interprovincial bridges and tunnels. Another major element of the Department's transportation program is the supervision of road and bridge construction programmed by other government departments, such as the construction of national parks roads and development roads in Yukon and the Northwest Territories. The program also includes the administration and inspection of road projects for which responsibility is shared with other levels of government.

PWC 10
Solar Programs Office (SPO): The Solar Programs Office, in co-operation with Energy, Mines and Resources Canada, administers the government's solar programs with the objective of fostering the development of the Canadian solar industry. At first, the program supported the installation of solar heating systems on government-owned property only. Commencing 1 April 1984 all funding will be in support of projects in the private sector. Financial assistance is available to homeowners for the purchase of residential solar water heaters, and to the commercial/industrial sector for larger solar installations. The Office's services offer technical advice, consultation, and information, including advice to manufacturers for product improvement; courses on design, maintenance, and operation, and the design computer program; advice on the use of the design computer program and on product quality standards.

PWC 11
Fire Commissioner of Canada (FCC): the FCC is responsible for the fire protection of government of Canada owned and leased properties, excluding National Defence bases, and government ships. This responsibility extends to all government departments, agencies, and Crown corporations listed under schedules A, B, C, and to one agency under D of the Financial Administration Act. Properties within other government departments for which the FCC is responsible are airport terminals and buildings, except for property involved in plane crash fire-fighting, penitentiaries under Correctional Service Canada, town sites and federal properties in national parks of Environment Canada, and the property of such Crown corporations as Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, the CBC, and Ports Canada.

PWC 12
Emergency preparedness: the Department is responsible for providing plans and arrangements for the regulation of engineering and construction resources, in view of protecting Canadians against weapons and the wartime effects of radioactive fallout. It is also responsible for timely emergency response, including the provision of emergency government facilities, during peacetime emergencies and war.

The Treasury Board of Canada is a committee of six members of the Queen's Privy Council, including the President of the Treasury Board and the Minister of Finance. The Board advises Cabinet on the selection of programs and projects that will achieve the government's objectives in the most effective manner in accordance with its priorities, and promotes the efficient use of the human and material resources needed by departments and agencies to carry out their programs and projects.
Minister responsible:
Minister of the Treasury Board

TB 1
The Treasury Board Secretariat: as the operational arm of the Board, the Secretariat examines all proposed spending programs and keeps them under review; proposes personnel management policy; and negotiates, as the employer, collective agreements with public service bargaining agents.

TB 2
Official languages: the Secretariat oversees the implementation of the Official Languages Program in the federal public service, which includes producing general guidelines and criteria to provide direction to departments and agencies; auditing and evaluating departmental official languages activities; and monitoring the progress of the public service towards the achievement of language reform. Inquiries: interpretation of official language policies and related matters, Official Languages Branch, Ottawa/Hull (613) 593-6921.

TB 3
Directory of bilingual offices: the Secretariat publishes a list of federal department and agency offices in Canada that have a full-time capacity to serve the public in both official languages. Inquiries: Ottawa/Hull (613) 593-6921 ext 244.

TB 4
Federal Identity Program (FIP): through this program, the Secretariat aims to identify federal activities in a consistent manner; to improve the methods of graphics handling and design in the area of official languages, consistent with the Official Languages Act; and to reduce costs through standardization of the program's application.

TB 5
Access to information and privacy: the Secretariat prepares and distributes publications describing government institutions and their information banks, together with forms, to enable the public to obtain access to this information. It is also responsible for issuing policies and regulations to federal government institutions on the operation of the Access to Information and Privacy Acts.

The Access Register and Access Supplement, the Personal Information Index brochures explaining the Acts, and request forms are available at post offices in both urban and rural areas, public libraries, MPs' constituency offices, federal government information offices, and service bureaux of the Centre for Service to the Public. The Access Register (BT 51-2/2-1983) and Personal Information Index (BT 51-2/1-1983) are available at the above locations for reference only. They can be purchased for $10 per copy by mail from the Canadian Government Publishing Centre, Supply and Services Canada, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0S9, or by phone, (819) 997-2560, and from government-authorized bookstore agents. The other material is free.

TB 6
The Office of Regulatory Reform: as a result of the special mandate for regulatory reform given the President of the Treasury Board by the Prime Minister, the Office of Regulatory Reform has been established as part of the Administrative Policy Branch. It is responsible for the advancement and co-ordination of the government's Regulatory Reform Program in conjunction with central agencies, regulating departments, and regulatory agencies.

TB 7
The Comptroller General of Canada: the Comptroller General heads the second organization serving the Treasury Board and is responsible for the quality and integrity of the financial administration policies and practices in use throughout the federal public service.
